DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1 in part, drawn to a method for identifying test agents that alter thyroid hormone metabolism.

Group II, claim(s) 1 in part, drawn to a method for identifying test agents that alter cholesterol or lipid metabolism.

Group III, claim(s) 2, in part and 3, in part drawn to a composition for altering thyroid hormone metabolism.

Group IV, claim(s) 2, in part and 3, in part, drawn to a composition for altering cholesterol or lipid metabolism.

Group V, claim(s) 4, drawn to a method for altering thyroid hormone metabolism in a subject.

Group VI, claim(s) 5, drawn to a method for altering cholesterol and lipid metabolism in a subject.

Group VII, claim(s) 6 and 7, drawn to method for treating obesity.

Art Unit: 1647

The inventions listed as Groups I-VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

37 CFR 1.475 states: The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

The first claim of the instant invention is drawn to a method for identifying agents that alter two different metabolic pathways. The teachings of Dunn (Chapter 92, Endocrinology, 4th edition, 2001) and Auchus et al (Chapter 115, Endocrinology, 4th edition, 2001) indicate that pathways of thyroid metabolism as exemplified by thyroid hormone synthesis and release (see Figures 92-1, 92-6, 92-8) and the pathways of cholesterol metabolism (see Figure 115-2), as exemplified by steroidogenic pathways are vastly different pathways, with different starting compounds, intermediary steps, and final products. Methods of identifying agents which alter these pathways represent separate patentable inventions. Therefore, since the first claimed invention does not have a single technical feature, it cannot share a special technical feature with the other claimed inventions.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed. (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Art Unit: 1647

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
